

HO HO HO hello,

Thank you so much for writing me! I read it at the kitchen table with some milk and cookies. There isn't enough time to get these last few letters delivered before Christmas, so I'm going to take them with me and leave them somewhere safe for you to find!

Outside our window, the snow has begun falling gently to the ground. The elves are loading up my sleigh and making sure it's in tip-top shape for our big flight. The last toy has been placed in the sack, and it's filled right to the top. The reindeer are also outside in the fields stretching their legs to prepare for a long night of flying and landing on rooftops.

Mrs. Claus, our Chief Toy Engineer, is preparing to monitor our ride from our radar station. She will make sure that no home gets missed. Bless my buttons, I just saw a stream of magic sparkles around my sleigh. That means it's going to be an extra special night. I see a red glow, too - I guess Rudolph has turned on his nose.

This is my favourite time of the year when all our hard work pays off and we finally get to visit all our friends around the world. Stay happy and healthy, my dear friend. I'll be sure to sprinkle some North Pole magic over your home on our journey. It will bring you and your family a wonderful and joyous year. Merry Christmas!

Love,

Santa
