

Xpresspost™ – International

Send worldwide at prices not out of this world

Looking for fast international delivery without a high price tag? The Xpresspost – International service from Canada Post is ideal for shipping documents and parcels—on time, intact, and at a price that's a fraction of what international express couriers charge.

Grow your business internationally

The Xpresspost – International service goes to 50 of the world's most popular destinations, so you can explore new markets and expand your business to include new customers abroad.

Reduce costs for better bottom-line results

We provide a swift, economical international delivery service without the usual courier-type surcharges.

Know your shipping costs up front

We offer the convenience of prepaid envelopes for fast, cost-effective document delivery including signatory name for select destinations at no charge.

Avoid customs hassles

No need to deal with time-consuming customs presentation and handling; we manage the customs process as part of our service.

Give your online customers more choice

Adding the Xpresspost – International service to your range of online shipping options gives your customers more choice and boosts customer satisfaction.

Find out exactly when it gets there

Our delivery confirmation with optional email notification lets you know when your item arrives—so you don't have to spend valuable time following up with destination locations.

All your packages are important. But, they're not all urgent. The Xpresspost – International service gives you reliable delivery, and you don't have to pay for bells and whistles you don't need.
